On Wednesday, October 15, 2014, RW Buff Inc. was presented with four Pocono Builders Association 2014 Builders Awards at the annual awards dinner held at Stroudsmoor Inn. The awards received by RW Buff Inc. were Residential Construction Between 1500-2500 square feet, Remodeling Residential Kitchen Between $30,000 - $50,000, Remodeling Whole House Renovation for Construction Between 1500 – 2500 square feet, and the most prestigious award of the evening – the Award of Excellence for a Builder Member.

“We are extremely pleased and humbled to be recognized by our peers in the building industry with these awards,” expresses Bob Buff, owner of RW Buff Inc. “These projects represent the best of what we offer to our customers – quality construction, superior craftsmanship, unique design, and thorough attention to the premium features that make each customer’s home special.”

The award for Residential Construction Between 1500-2500 square feet and Award of Excellence for a Builder Member were received by RW Buff Inc. for a 1,860 square foot custom home offering the perfect combination of ease of ownership and functionality coupled with eye-catching design details. Among the many breathtaking features included in the 3 bedroom, 2 ½ bath design are a front porch framed with twin columns showcasing a real wood entry door, hardwood floors throughout the home, solid wood interior doors, and sweeping 9-foot pine ceilings on the main level. The first floor of the home is expertly designed as an open floor plan, while boasting a gourmet kitchen, very large mudroom and laundry room, and spacious great room. The second floor of the home is equally luxurious and spacious, with two spare bedrooms, a guest bath, and owner's suite with spa-bath retreat incorporated into the design.

The award for Remodeling Residential Kitchen Between $30,000-$50,000 was presented to RW Buff Inc. for a transformative project which took a well-worn and outdated kitchen within a quaint cottage and reimagined it into a dream kitchen for the owner that will truly be the heart of the home. The new gourmet kitchen includes a wet bar, desk area, island, dining area, and fireplace, expertly designed to maximize efficiency in the 378 square foot space. With larger windows and a glass entry door incorporated as the finishing touches, the end result is a light-filled and welcoming kitchen that will serve as the hub of the home for years to come.

RW Buff Inc.'s award for Remodeling Whole Residential House Renovation for Construction Between 1500 – 2500 square feet turned dreams into reality for the homeowners through the total renovation a ramshackle 1920's kit house into a simple, yet classic, modern stone farmhouse. Highlights of the home's design include a custom kitchen open to the dining and living areas; a breathtaking entry resplendent with built-in shelving, room divider, and oak staircase; and a second floor set of matching captain's beds perfect for guests. The exterior of the home is equally stunning, clad in a custom mixed cultured stone veneer with raised joints, giving the appearance of old stone and clapboard siding. A front porch fashioned from fir timbers and custom cedar railings, as well as new landscaping including a small patio, fire pit, and tasteful plantings complete the distinctive features of this truly exceptional home remodel.

Buff concludes, "These 2014 Pocono Builders award-winning projects showcase the range of skill and craftsmanship that are distinctive of every project at RW Buff. I am proud to have them serve as both a representation of the work we have completed during the past year and a promise of the great projects we will have in the year to come."
